FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ACTOR SCOTT BETTIS

PERFORMS ONE-MAN SHOW—TRAVELING LIGHT

Professional dramatist Scott Bettis will be performing a one-man show, Traveling Light at _____ (organization) _____ on _____ (date/time) _____. Bettis is a versatile performer whose roles have ranged from comedy improve and short sketches to Broadway-style musicals and Shakespeare. In 1995 he began touring with Master's Image Productions in the two-man musical revue, A.D. Something. He also originated the role of Jake in the world premiere of Deadline, a drama based on the best-seller by Randy Alcorn.

Written by Larry Enscoe, Traveling Light features modern-day characters that take us through the Gospel of Mark in a series of character-rich vignettes. Peter is portrayed as a tough Brooklyn longshoreman. Levi is a high-strung, nerdy tax-man. Herod is a godfather-like, mobster don. The "cast" also includes a tough pig rancher, a young boy, a snooty rich man, and even a Jewish mother-in-law. The play tells the Gospel story in language anyone can understand, with characters everyone can identify with, and a message no one will forget. The public is invited to attend.
